Living alone with hope and confidence

Anxiety used to plague Mdm Rose Tan when she had to venture out of her flat. There were days when the 76-year-old lost her way after travelling to places beyond her neighbourhood in Ang Mo Kio. Having lost her two children to illness when they were in their teens and widowed in recent years, she has been staying on her own. Living in isolation slowly took its toll on her health and ability to manage daily activities.

“COMNET’s care has enabled Mdm Tan to widen her social circle and keep herself occupied with enriching and engaging activities. She feels a sense of belonging and seeks to contribute by sharing her beading craft skill with others.”

A line of hope and support soon emerged and Mdm Tan was not left to fend for herself. Befrienders from COMNET Senior Services under AMKFSC Community Services visit her regularly. Though now wheelchair-bound, she goes for outings with the help of staff and befrienders. She attends weekly activities organised by COMNET. Other agencies also help her with housekeeping and accompany her for medical appointments.

COMNET’s care has enabled Mdm Tan to widen her social circle and keep herself occupied with enriching and engaging activities. She feels a sense of belonging and seeks to contribute by sharing her beading craft skill with others. Her hope is to teach children who are also under AMKFSC’s care to make beaded bracelets to give to other social service users during Children’s Day. Mdm Tan has also been actively volunteering with AMKFSC to plan community outreach events for her neighbours.

As the needs of seniors in Singapore evolve, many of them desire for greater independence despite living alone. They also look for more avenues for social interaction, which are important in improving their quality of life. The SP Heartware Fund supports COMNET Befriending Services and other seniors service programmes through Community Chest. These help them preserve their physical, mental and emotional health more effectively.

Through COMNET, the community extends a warm hand of friendship to seniors like Mdm Tan. Their services, such as, befriending, Senior Activity Centres and regular monitoring of vulnerable seniors, enable them to cope effectively with daily activities and contribute meaningfully to their own communities.

With your generous donation to the SP Heartware Fund, we can help Mdm Tan and other seniors in need. Empower them to live dignified and fulfilling lives so that they are not alone.
